

Jean Alain Penda is the OHADAC Project Manager in the French West Indies and an Independent Consultant at Price Waterhouse Coopers LLP, London.

Mr. Penda holds an LL.M. in International Corporate and Financial Law from the University of Wolverhampton (United Kingdom), and a Ph.D. from the University of Basel (Switzerland), specializing in sales and commercial law. Penda was a Research Assistant for the Head of Private Law at the Faculty of Law, University of Basel and a Researcher for Global Sales Law, a project supported by UNCITRAL. Prior Price Waterhouse Coopers LLP, Penda was an independent consultant at Century-Link & Xin Ji Yuan law office in Beijing, China.

Mr. Penda is also noted for his focus on contributing to the creation of a sustainable culture of arbitration as a mechanism for dispute resolution in African states, a research project based at SOAS, University of London. On the related scholarly work, Mr. Penda is an author of several published articles and book chapters related to business areas of law, with a particular focus on international arbitration, legal integration, international sales law and international commercial law related issues in the Caribbean and sub-Saharan Africa.

Mr. Penda is also founding Director of the Foundation for a Unified Business Law in Africa (FOUBLA), a not-for-profit corporation, based in New York, USA and JAP International Corp, a consultancy firm based in Brampton, Ontario, Canada. He is also an active member of several professional legal organizations, including the Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot, UNIDA (African Association for a Unified Business Laws in Africa) and ACP Legal.

Feel free to select some of this information or summarize more than I did, if need be.

I am also attaching two passport size photographs, do choose the most convenient for your need.